

FEARFUL WRECK IN MICHIGAN

Two Passenger Trains on the Wabash Road
Crash Together.

TRAINMEN BLAMED

Between Eighty and One Hundred People Meet a
Most Horrible Fate.

MANY BURN TO DEATH

Seneca, Mich., Nov. 29.—The most horrible railroad tragedy ever enacted in Michigan occurred a mile and a half east of here, on the main line of the Wabash railroad, at 6:45 o'clock Wednesday evening. The exact number of the dead will probably never be known for one of the trains was a crowded immigrant train. The names of 61 killed are already known and the number is estimated at from 80 to 100. Many more received injuries that they will bear with them to their graves.

Trains Crash Into Each Other
The collision was a head end one between train 13, bound west from Detroit with a baggage car, two immigrant cars, a chair car and two sleepers, and the through limited train No. 4, east bound from Chicago. No 13 was two hours late and her crippled engine had been replaced by two small engines, No. 88, and No. 151. Train No. 3, a local passenger, followed No 13 and the train dispatcher at Montpelier, O., issued a special order instructing the east bound limited engine No. 609, to meet No. 13, engines 88 and 151, at Seneca and No. 3, engine 623, at Sand Creek. This order was sent to the conductors and engineers of all three of these trains.

East Bound Train Disobeyed Orders
Blame for the collision is fixed upon Conductor George M. Martin of Detroit, of train No. 4, and Engineer A. T. Strong of the same train, engine 609, likewise of Detroit. It is charged by Superintendent Burns of the Wabash that these two men ignored orders and that to them alone is due the terrible slaughter.

Instead of stopping at Seneca and passing train 13 there, Engineer Strong of train 4, rushed through the village of 200 people like a flash and onto the straight track for Sand Creek at a sixty-five mile clip.

A mile and a quarter out Engineer Strong saw the headlight of Engineer Works, engine 8, at the head of train 13, and shut down his air brakes. Engineer Strong's hair rose in fright. He dragged along the next quarter of a mile under the fullest brake pressure, but a collision was inevitable. He ordered his fireman to jump and jumped himself. How he came out of it alive he does not know.

Trains Collide With Fearful Force
The two trains came together with a crash that shook houses that were 300 and 400 yards away from the engines. The big mogul engine, 609, fairly ate up the little engine, 88, at the head of train 13, and raising high in the air for her full length, struck engine 151, just back of 88, on train 13, and jammed in 151's entire front, and then reared backward, turning a half somersault, plowed a hole several feet deep in the ditch on the right side of the track and lay dismantled and undone, with her cupola toward the station from which she had just come, and her machinery rattling out in the open air to the accompaniment of oceans of steam, shrieking out of every crevice in her iron body. One of the engines is a total wreck and the other two badly damaged.

Engineer Robert Parks, of Ashley, Ind., engine 151, but his fireman, "Cal" Baldorf, of Delray, was caught in the ruins and his body was not rescued until 4 o'clock this morning.

Engineer G. Work, of Delray, engine No. 88, jumped and saved himself. Fireman D. Doud, of Delray, of the same engine, started to jump, but was too late. He was caught and pinned down in the debris and was found next to the fire box dead. Engineer Work was badly scalded, his nose broke and he suffered severe scalp wounds.

Great Shock to Passengers
But the 300 and more passengers on the two trains were taken all unawares. The shock came to them like a cannon shot. The people in the combination baggage and smoker of train 4 were thrown up to the ceiling. The twenty passengers in the next car escaped with severe bruises. But a day coach, next to the rear, was huddled up like a piece of paper. The body of the car was reduced to splinters, and the roof of the car chiv sheered off into the ditch, carrying with it several luckless people, who had been thrown to the top of the car, burying them and planning others down to the earth.

Horrible Fate of Immigrants
The greatest catastrophe was the first immigrant car, back of the double engines on train 13. These second class cars were filled with Italians and the cars were lighted by kerosene lamps or acetylene gas, or else it was due to the shower of flames and sparks from the engine wreck; anyway, the first immigrant car was almost instantly set on fire in what seemed to be a burst of flame to the farmers surrounding. The shock on this car was terrific. It buckled and the immigrants were so suddenly surrounded by flame, or else so greatly injured by the shock, that they were unable to break out the windows of the car and escape that way. They could be seen inside by means of the great glare of light 300 yards away, rising up before the windows, waving their arms and falling back again into the flames. The bodies in this car burned into ashes, bones and all.

It is believed that there were thirty five immigrants in each car; that those in the first car were burned into nothingness; that half in the second car were killed. Besides these there were six bodies pulled from a telescoped car and a mass of charred remains burned to an unsightly mass, pulled from the fire before entirely consumed.

There is no way of actually numbering the Italians, as Collector Eames, believed to live in Chicago is the only man who can be certain on this subject, provided he has with him the ticket or ticket record. Two score, possibly three score were killed—half of them at least being burned like hogs in a pen. The smell from the burning heap was a horrible stench, that nearly suffocated those who went near the fire or to the windward of it.

Engineer Denies Disobedience
Engineer Strong contends that his orders obliged him to stop for train 13 at Sand Creek, instead of Seneca, but he would not show his order or talk further about the case. He claims to have lost them in the confusion of the wreck.

Although Engineer Strong of the east bound limited saw the light of the approaching train while yet some five miles away and down a straight track, he did not check his speed, because, as he said, he supposed No. 13, was waiting on a siding at Sand Creek. Coroner Hamilton of Adrian has impaneled a jury and will begin an inquest into the disaster. All of the jurors are prominent in the business affairs of the city of Adrian.

GOLFERS' ANNUAL BALLA SUCCESS

Members and Friends of the Mississippi Golf Club Spend Thanks-giving Night Most Pleasantly.

The annual Thanksgiving party of the Mississippi Golf club was held last evening at Assembly hall and was an unqualified social success. About one hundred couples gathered at the hall in response to the invitations sent out by the club and spent several delightful hours dancing to the sweet strains of Smith's full orchestra.

The dancing began shortly after 8 o'clock and continued until about one with only a short intermission between the dances. Most of the young ladies were in full evening dress and presented a handsome picture. The gentlemen wore the conventional dress suit. The floor and music were in charge of George McKey, W. Watt, Edward Peterson and H. R. King.

Among those from out of the city who were in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Ranous, Fond du Lac; Miss Hauser, of Madison; Mrs. Frank Reger, Superior, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Sloan of Edgerton; Miss Virginia Hayner, Madison; Miss Brown, Omaha; L. E. Glover, Hudson.

BAD RAILROAD COLLISION OCCURS ON C. & N.W. RY NEAR KOSHKONONG

Change in Train Dispatcher's Orders as to the Passing Point Was Responsible—Five Janesville Men Injured, But None Fatally.

A head end collision between a passenger train running about sixty miles an hour going north and fast freight No. 593, coming south occurred Wednesday night about nine o'clock on the Northwestern road about two miles north of Koshkonong. The trains came together on a curve near what is known to the railroad men as Jim Pritchard's cut. Although several trainmen were badly hurt no one was killed and none of the passengers were injured.

The accident was the result of a change in orders given by the train dispatcher at Oshkosh, making the meeting points of the trains at Fort Atkinson instead of Koshkonong and then not getting the message to Fort Atkinson in time for the operator to hold the freight.

The Watertown passenger left here a little late and had orders to meet the freight coming south at Koshkonong. When they reached that place were given a clearance to Fort Atkinson. The message to the operator at Fort Atkinson to stop the freight, came just after the train had pulled out. The operator tried to stop the freight, but was unable to do so and wired in that the freight and gone. There was nothing that he could do but wait results.

Both engineers were going as fast as they could turn a wheel to make their meeting points and had not slowed up much when they came together. The lighter passenger engine was literally ground up by the big "hog" on the freight. The heavy engine was also badly damaged and a number of freight cars wrecked. The baggage car of the passenger train was badly smashed and turned bottom side up into the ditch. Conductor F. J. Brown and Baggageman Joe Griffin being caught in the wreck. The passenger coaches were not badly injured, although the passengers were given a lively shaking up. Engineer James Walsh, of the passenger engine, said the first he knew of anything being wrong was that he noticed the light from the headlight of the freight engine shining on the rails of the curve in the track ahead of him. He at once shut off steam put on his air and calling to the fireman, jumped. He was somewhat bruised by the fall and sustained a bad cut on the back of his left hand. His fireman, Michael Hayes, was found after the accident up against the fence where he had landed when he jumped. He was badly bruised and cut and besides internal injuries sustained a fracture of one of his legs.

Conductor F. J. Brown, was in the baggage car when the crash came. The next thing he knew the car was in the ditch and he was mixed up with trunks and other things. He received a bad cut along the left side of his scalp six inches long, and the whole scalp was loosened from his head. He also received an injury to his left side and hip besides internal injuries. He will be confined to his bed for two or three weeks.

Baggageman Joe Griffin was also in the baggage car and was seriously hurt about the hips. The freight engine was in charge of Engineer L. S. Dudley of this city. He and his fireman escaped by jumping and were only slightly hurt.

As soon as word was received here the wrecking car with Drs. Palmer and Farnsworth aboard left for the scene of the accident. They returned about two o'clock in the morning on a special with the wounded men, who were taken to their homes in the patrol wagon and hacks. The wrecking crews from Milwaukee and their city worked all Wednesday night and yesterday cleaning up the wreck. All passengers from the north and south had to be transferred around the wreck which completely blocked the track. That no one was killed is a wonder considering the way the trains were running when they came together.

FOOTBALL SEASON ENDED YESTERDAY

Wisconsin's Victory Over Chicago Causes Much Rejoicing—Some of the Other Big Games.

Friends of the cardinal rejoice in the result of yesterday's football contest between the Universities of Wisconsin and Chicago in which the maroons were played to a standstill and came out of the contest with the small end of a 35 to 0 score.

Before the biggest crowd that has seen a football game on Marshall field this year Wisconsin won the greatest victory for this autumn and Chicago suffered the worst defeat of its most disastrous season. Every one expected that the Badgers with their fast, machine-like team would prove too much for the Maroons but it was not generally believed that Wisconsin would roll up a score of thirteen points greater than the one that Michigan made against Chicago eleven days ago. This, however is just what Wisconsin did despite the fact that the Maroons in most departments of the game played better football than they did against the Wolverines at Ann Arbor.

McGOVERN LOSES THE FIGHT "Young" Corbett Defeats Champion of the Feather Weights.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 29.—Honors were won and lost with great rapidity when Terrence McGovern passed the feather-weight championship of the world to William Rothwell of Denver, who is better known as "Young" Corbett. The battle lasted a short two rounds, but into the four minutes and forty-four seconds that the men actually faced each other there was crowded more fighting than is often seen in a contest that goes the full limit of twenty rounds. From the moment the gong sounded calling the two pugilists together for the first time until the final blow was struck, with the exception of one minute for rest, it was give and take. From one side of the ring to the other the maddened fighters forced each other. A clinch on the ropes would be followed by a sharp exchange of blows in the center of the arena. Again two little forms would flit in and out, gloved fists moving with a rapidity that it was difficult for eye to follow.

He pointed out that the payments by the German government had made it possible to provide vessels under the German flag for Atlantic service with greater speed than could be maintained on a purely business basis. Since 1903 the Oceanic was the only ocean steamship of over twenty knot speed added to the British list, while seven such ships had been built under foreign flags.

The two women were said to have been held captives at Vovesj and Myetjroza, towns supposed to be on the Bulgarian frontier. The fact that both Mr. Eddy and Consul General Dicklous emphatically discredited the report of Miss Stone's death is regarded here as indicating their purpose to continue without relaxation their efforts to secure her release.

THANKSGIVING EVE MADE MERRY

WEDNESDAY EVENING WAS ONE OF SOCIAL ENJOYMENT.

Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen Score a Brilliant Success at Their Annual Ball—Odd Fellows Are Royally Entertained—The Klitties Give a Fine Concert.

If Thanksgiving day was one of feasting and pleasure and the day after one of indigestion from the characteristic combination of turkey, cranberry sauce, celery, oysters, mince and pumpkin pie, rich pudding and the other viands which compose the typical dinner of the New England feast day, Thanksgiving eve was a night of pure pleasure and merriment and hundreds of people gave themselves up to the delights of social dissipation, secure in the knowledge of a succeeding holiday.

Trainmen's Dance a Success. Assembly hall never looked prettier than it did on Wednesday night for the annual ball of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. Efficient committees had done their work well and the decorations were elaborate, handsome and appropriate to the occasion. Red, green and white globed lanterns were hung from the outside of the windows as signals to the public and for once they all meant the same thing—A jolly good time and plenty of fun for everybody.

The outside decorations were but a slight indication of the brilliancy and cheerfulness within the great hall. Red, green and white bunting, artistically arranged, completely concealed the walls and long strings of signal flags made effective ceiling decorations. Headlights and railroad lanterns helped to illuminate the scene and the floral decorations were as fine as any ever seen in the city. A framework of arch ways was erected around the orchestra stand and it was covered heavily with wild smilax. Beneath the arches of this glossy, green vine was a bank of potted palms, with immense branches of chrysanthemums massed effectively against the rich foliage. The reception corner was also beautified by a unique arrangement of rare palms and tall vases filled with great chrysanthemums. These handsome floral decorations were evidence of the artistic taste of Ed. Amerpohl, the Lin street florist, and the credit for the balance of the decorations belongs to H. D. Van Akin, D. J. Barry and Daniel P. Davey, the untiring members of the arrangement committee, who are largely responsible for the great success of the party.

It was a great financial success, fully two hundred couples being present. It was a program dance and each dance was characterized on the program by some phrase full of significance to the railroad men. For instance the words, "Knock Down the Canning Factory" appeared opposite the old folks' quadrille. The music was simply entrancing. Smith's orchestra of several pieces being at its best. The floor was well-cared for by F. J. Dixon, L. Crowe, T. W. Richardson, G. W. Schmittley, A. E. Koeler, G. W. Hayes and Thomas Brennan.

The dancing lasted until three o'clock Thanksgiving morning and everyone had a splendid time. Supper was served at midnight and the various restaurants of the city were liberally patronized. The trainmen were especially happy in the presence of representatives of their grand lodge T. R. Dodge of Chicago, second vice grand master and his wife and Assistant Superintendent P. J. O'Brien and wife of this city.

Odd Fellows Make Merry Also. To Odd Fellows and their families one of the greatest joys of the Thanksgiving season is the annual banquet and dance to which they are invited on Thanksgiving eve by the Odd Fellows' Social and Beneficial club. This is the insurance branch of the order and its membership includes Odd Fellows from all the lodges of that order in this city and in the county. They are a jolly crowd and their annual parties are always immense successes and very happy affairs. This year was no exception and on Wednesday evening East Side Odd Fellows hall was the scene of merriment from six o'clock until midnight.

The reputation of the Social and Beneficial club as a royal host is well established and about 400 people enjoyed the club's hospitality Wednesday evening. Beginning at 6 o'clock an elegant supper was served in the dining hall. The menu was an elaborate one and included all the good things to eat that James A. Fathers and Charles W. Schwartz, the committee on "grub" could think of. Caterer G. A. Shurtleff's presence in the kitchen was made known by the excellent coffee and the savory scalloped oysters. The ladies were banished from the kitchen and not permitted to work, the gentlemen of the arrangement committee serving the banquet and waiting upon their guests both faithfully and efficiently. After supper the balance of the evening was spent in dancing to the music of Jack Tuckwood's orchestra and in a general good time. There was no formality whatever and during the evening several jokes were played on different members, furnishing much amusement to all. The members of the arrangement committee to whom four hundred people are especially indebted for a happy evening were James A. Fathers, B. F. Blanchard, J. P. Hutchinson, Charles W. Schwartz, W. H. Grove and Wilford Coleman.

Fine Concert at Myers Grand. The Klitties, Canada's crack military band, belonging to the 48th Highlanders' regiment, played to two beggarly audiences at the Myers Grand Wednesday afternoon and evening, giving two exceptionally fine programs. Enthusiasm and appreciation are not always limited by numbers and the handful of people present at the evening concert greeted nearly every number on the program with a perfect storm of applause, calling for encore after encore. The Klitties are certainly one of the best bands in this country and they play classical and popular music in an equally pleasing manner. The selections in Wednesday evening's program covered a wide musical range and included medleys of the sweet songs of Scotland; a collection of characteristic airs of several nations, excerpts from "William Tell" by Rossini and from "Faust" by Gounod. Nell McKewan is one of the best Scotch dancers ever seen in the city, being remarkably light and graceful on his feet and the audience fairly went wild over the dancing and pleasing appearance of Eugene Lockhart, the boy dancer. The sword dances had to be executed with belts instead of swords, one of the swords belonging to the band having been appropriated by some nimble-fingered person. The artistic flute solos by D. Dineen, the vocal selections by the strong male chorus and the robust and melodious tenor solos by Frank Bemore were all delightful numbers.

The program was doubled by encores and the concert certainly merited a packed house.

The beauty thief has come to stay. Unless you drive the pimples and blackheads away: Do this: don't look like a fright; Take Rocky Mountain Tea Tonight! Smith's Pharmacy Came Near Scalping Him. David Griffin met with an accident Wednesday which came near scalping him. Mr. Griffin was riding in a wagon with W. J. Cannon, the second hand dealer, on their way to deliver a stove on North Main street. When near Mrs. Carlson's residence on North Main street the horse became frightened at the cars on the siding and started on a run. The wagon was overturned and Mr. Cannon, Mr. Griffin and the stove dumped out. Unfortunately for Mr. Griffin he was in the way of the stove when it landed and was badly cut about the head by the sharp iron edges. He was taken to Dr. Gibson's office where his wounds were dressed. It was a close call and might have been much worse than it is. The horse was stopped a short distance from where the accident occurred and very little damage was done to the rig.

MANY GIVE THANKS IN UNION SERVICE

Congregations of Five Churches Join in an Hour of Worship at the Presbyterian Church.

The beautiful Thanksgiving day just past was not devoted entirely to feasting and dancing, to bowling, roller skating and shooting for while these were all important features of the day's observance, the religious significance of the day was not forgotten and the union service held by the congregations of the Methodist, Congregational, Baptist and Presbyterian churches at the Presbyterian church yesterday morning was quite largely attended.

The service was at 11 o'clock and Presiding Elder E. S. McChesney, Rev. James Churm, of the First M. E. Church, Rev. R. C. Denison, of the Congregational church and Rev. J. T. Henderson were present to aid in conducting the service. Rev. Richard M. Vaughan, of the Baptist church and Rev. J. H. Tippet of the Court Street M. E. church, were unable to be present, Rev. Vaughan being still confined to his home by illness and Rev. Tippet being called upon to officiate at a funeral at the same time as the union service. Rev. Denison was prevented from taking an active part in the service by extreme hoarseness.

Rev. Henderson presided during the meeting and the prayer was offered by Rev. McChesney. The special music for the service was very fine including organ voluntaries by Mrs. John Fuller Sweeney and an exquisite vocal solo "Fear Not Oh Israel," by Dudley Duck, artistically rendered by Mrs. J. G. Rexford. Mrs. Rexford and Leonard Mathews led the congregational singing.

The Thanksgiving sermon was preached by the Rev. James Churm who selected as his text a part of the 20th verse of the 147 Psalm, "He hath not dealt so with any nation." The central thought of Rev. Churm's sermon was the fact that the United States has reason above all nations to be thankful to God for many blessings which no other nation enjoys. In his introduction the speaker said that while it is true that as individuals we are under obligations to God and it is fitting to gather together and give thanks for manifold blessings, it is also fitting that a Christian nation should be called together by the proclamation of a Christian president. We are a great people and a great nation and are so recognized by all other nations. This is a country of happy comfortable homes and many facts in our national history show that God has not dealt with any other nation as with us.

Rev. Churm then briefly reviewed the history of the nation's life from its birth. He showed how from the first this people struggled for the God given privilege of freedom, how it protected the principle of freedom and liberty in the war of 1812, the civil war and in the late war for the Cubans which did as much for us as for the Cubans by blinding the north and south together.

Rev. Churm eulogized William McKinley as one of the wisest and brightest of administrators and a Christian gentleman and he paid glowing tribute to President Roosevelt as a worthy successor. Reason for national Thanksgiving is found, in the many Christian presidents who have served this nation and in the achievements of the people, their progress in every line, in the educational advancement of the nation and in its Christian principles. America is only another name for opportunity and its history teaches eloquently the fact that God has blessed this nation above all others.

Builds up the blood; puts pure, rich blood in the veins; makes men and women strong and healthy. Burdock Blood Bitters. At any drug store. "I suffered for months from sore throat. Electric oil cured me in twenty-four hours." M. S. Glat, Hawesville, Ky.

"Cure the cough and save the life." Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs and colds, down to the very verge of consumption. Ten thousand demons gnawing away at one's vitals couldn't be much worse than the tortures of itching piles. Yet there's a cure Doan's ointment never fails.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved, however, that Catarrh is not a local disease, but a constitutional one, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally and acts from the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

A Cure For It—Not a Patent Cure—All Nor a Modern Miracle but Simply a Rational Cure for Dyspepsia. In these days of humbuggery and deception, the manufacturers of patent medicines, as a rule, seem to think their medicines will not sell unless they claim that it will cure every disease under the sun. And they never think of leaving out dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They are sure to claim that their nostrum is absolutely certain to cure every dyspeptic and he need look no further.

In the face of these absurd claims it is refreshing to note that the proprietors of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have carefully refrained from making undue claims or false representations regarding the merits of this most excellent remedy for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They make but one claim for it, and that is, that for indigestion and various stomach troubles Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a radical cure. They go no farther than this and any man or woman suffering from indigestion, chronic or nervous dyspepsia, who will give the remedy a trial will find that nothing is claimed for it, that the facts will not fully sustain it.

It is a modern discovery, composed of harmless vegetable ingredients acceptable to the weakest or most delicate stomach. Its great success in curing stomach troubles is due to the fact that the medicinal properties are such that it will digest whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach, no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. It rests the overworked organ and replenishes the body, the blood, the nerves, creating a healthy appetite, gives refreshing sleep and the blessings which always accompany a good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

In Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets no dieting is required. Simply eat plenty of wholesome food and take these tablets at each meal, thus assisting and resting the stomach which rapidly regains its proper digestive power, when the tablets will be no longer required.

Nervous dyspepsia is simply a condition in which some portion or portions of the nervous system, are not properly nourished. Good digestion invigorates the nervous system and every organ in the body.

Any druggist will tell you that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give universal satisfaction.

Storti Gets Fourth Respite. Boston, Mass., Nov. 29.—Governor Crane yesterday continued the respite of Luigi Storti till December 14. This is the fourth respite granted the man, who is sentenced to be electrocuted.

BAD BLOOD, BAD COMPLEXION.

The skin is the seat of an almost endless variety of diseases. They are known by various names, but are all due to the same cause, acid and other poisons in the blood that irritate and interfere with the proper action of the skin.

To have a smooth, soft skin, free from all eruptions, the blood must be kept pure and healthy. The many preparations of arsenic and potash and the large number of face powders and lotions generally used in this class of diseases cover up for a short time, but cannot remove permanently the ugly blotches and the red, disfiguring pimples.

Etternal vigilance is the price of a beautiful complexion when such remedies are relied on.

Mr. H. T. Shobe, 2744 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., says: "My daughter was afflicted for years with a disfiguring eruption on her face, which resisted all treatment. She was taken to two celebrated health springs, but received no benefit. Many medicines were prescribed, but without result, until we decided to try S. S. S., and by the time the first bottle was finished the eruption began to disappear. A dozen bottles cured her completely and left her skin perfectly smooth. She is now seventeen years old, and not a sign of the embarrassing disease has ever returned."

S. S. S. is a positive, unfailing cure for the worst forms of skin troubles. It is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and the only one guaranteed purely vegetable. Bad blood makes bad complexion. S. S. S. purifies and invigorates the old and makes new, rich blood that nourishes the body and keeps the skin active and healthy in proper condition to perform its part towards carrying off the impurities from the body. If you have Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, or your skin is rough and pimply, send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases and write our physicians about your case. No charge whatever for this service. SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.

A CASE OF NEGLECT.

The Milwaukee Sentinel recently criticized the governor for neglecting to enforce the law established by the last legislature for a new system of state accounting. The paper says in part:

"Here is a reform that any man of ordinary intelligence can comprehend. There is nothing spectacular or visionary about it. It is plain, concrete, definite reform that appeals to the common sense of all. Its purpose is to throw around the funds of the state the same safeguards that all business enterprises, great and small, use to protect themselves from loss. The law passed by the legislature is the result of four years of effort by Governor Scofield and many months of investigation by two experienced accountants who have earned reputations as experts in their profession."

In spite of the fact that the legislature, having due respect for Gov. La Follette's possible wishes in the matter, provided the law merely for a "central system of accounting," leaving it with him to select a system satisfactory to himself, he has contemptuously ignored their wishes. It is not his reform. It matters not to him that the legislature which he scorned and flouted in a veto message, had considered the matter and passed a law which he allowed to go upon the statute books. He does not even deem it necessary to explain his failure to act. It may be that he believes the Madison Journal is correct when it asserts that "R. M. La Follette is more than a governor." But however that may be, he stands today in the position of a chief executive of a great state, who, six months after the law has gone into effect, directing him to take action along certain lines, deliberately and wilfully neglects, if he does not refuse, to comply with the plain mandatory provisions of that law."

The Sentinel has overlooked the fact that the governor has been an invalid most of the time since the legislature adjourned and that the acting governor was too busy to give the matter attention. The lieutenant governor is not supposed to know any thing about it. Why should he, and what is he in the office for, anyway? So far as the new system of book-keeping is concerned, it required only a word to put it in motion. Expert accountants were at work for a year before Governor La Follette was elected and a liberal amount of money was expended, not only in developing a plan, but in securing blanks and supplies to put it in operation.

The state institutions were instructed to adopt it, and an effort was made to comply, but other departments refused, and the whole thing went by default. All it needs is rejuvenating under the new law. The machinery is in fact, the equipment paid for, and ready to use on short notice. The supposition is more or less general that the reform governor, is better posted on text books and poetry, than he is on petty ledgers and cash books. He is long on political economy and civil government from a theoretical standpoint, but a little short on business experience. The private secretary has never amassed a fortune in the business world and the lieutenant governor, well, he wasn't invited.

Under all the circumstances, the Sentinel is too severe on the governor.

WERE YOU THANKFUL?

If not you made a mistake and Thanksgiving only comes once a year.

If you had a good dinner, there was occasion for thankfulness.

You may have a good dinner every day, but the surroundings are different.

It takes more than turkey and cranberry sauce to inspire gratitude.

Many people get happy over a mug of beer, but it leaves them with a sore head and bad temper.

Some women would be thankful on Thanksgiving day. If it didn't take all their time apologizing to the company for a poor dinner.

The good housewife thinks she never made so much of a failure as on the Thanksgiving dinner. The turkey is tough, the dressing flat and general disaster waits for a compliment, which usually follows.

Perhaps you went to church and put a quarter in the plate to help make someone else thankful. If so, you made a good investment and have occasion to be happy.

Possibly the family met for the first time in a year, and you discovered evidence of success and prosperity. That is reason for gratitude of the genuine sort.

Thanksgiving for 1901 is a thing of the past, but its memory will linger

In many hearts and homes, as a pleasant reminder of bounty and good cheer, and as families scatter and pleasant associations are severed the spirit of the day will not be forgotten.

The ice company that proposes to put up the usual packing from Wisconsin lakes, and test the validity of the law, will have the sympathy of all fair minded people. If there was ever a piece of freak legislation, it is the law that proposes to tax non-residents 10 cents a ton on frozen water. That's about on a par with the game law.

The boiler explosion that resulted in the loss of so many lives at Detroit, indicates that somebody was negligent of duty. There should be a law in every state, rigidly enforced that provides for carefully inspection. The explosion of a boiler is an accident that, with rare exception, can be prevented.

Four thousand poor families in Milwaukee were generously remembered with a Thanksgiving dinner. The Associated Charities, Y. M. C. A. and various churches were liberal donors. This is Christianity of the practical sort, and worthy of commendation.

With the air full of flying machines and the bottom of the lake occupied with submarine craft, the activities of life will be suspended unless a man owns an automobile or has a stand-in with John Strange as a train dispatcher. The world do move, and it takes a busy man to keep up with the procession.

Civil government in the Philippine Islands is not so remote as to be beyond the possibilities. With the desire for education, and the facilities furnished, civilization is making rapid strides. There is a bright future for the land so long benighted, and the war with Spain was a blessing to the far eastern islands.

The greeting accorded Admiral Schley at Philadelphia, will be repeated wherever that gallant officer appears. The American people are his enthusiastic friends, and their name is legion, as compared to the little coterie of jealous brother officers, who attempted to injure him.

PRESS COMMENT.

Straws Show Which Way the Wind Blows.

New Richmond Republican Voice: Again we call attention to the fact that La Follette would stand much better with the so-called plain people today, had he devoted more time and attention last winter to tax reform, which the people want and demand, and less to the primary election scheme, which the people do not want.

Cuba City News: Narrowed down to a fine point, the question is whether the governor or a majority of the republican members of the legislature come nearest to being representatives of the will of the people.

Stoughton Hub: If railroad companies saw fit to give Mr. La Follette the use of a special train for a very low price, that's their business, is the plaintive wail from the half-breed camp. All right, if the express companies saw fit to tote Gov. Scofield's cow from Oconto to Madison for nothing, whose business is that?

Sheboygan Telegram: As a republican desiring the continuance of the republican party and its principles and not as advocate of faction breeding, party disrupting legislation and methods, Gov. La Follette has a service to perform to himself. That service will be best performed when the governor does not assume to be the sole repository of power.

Lodi Enterprise: No man has ever heard Gov. La Follette say anything against the attack on Senator Spooner made by the governor's appointee, Mr. Haugen, in a carefully prepared speech.

Tomah Monitor: When populism got hold of Nebraska, it drove most of the capital out of the state. Let us hope that the old line republicans will succeed in killing off the populist sentiment in Wisconsin before capital and labor are both ruined by it.

Waupun Times: Some Wisconsin politicians of the half-breed order claim to see a resemblance between Roosevelt and La Follette. Up to date the nearest thing alike about them is the fact that both issued Thanksgiving proclamations.

Racine Journal: Defeated politicians have occasion to refer to what they are pleased to call a subsidized press. It's a trick with those when an honest press shows up.

Clintonville Tribune: The talk of money influence from half-breed papers is amusing to the old timer in Northern Wisconsin politics. With that eminent gentleman like Stephen, as a La Follette lieutenant, of course there will be no money used in the half-breed camp.

Oconomowoc Enterprise: The Milwaukee Free Press is trying to convince the editor of the Waupaca Post, that the break in the republican party in the state is not owing to the primary bill, but it does not attempt to explain what is the matter with the La Folletteites.

Spooner Advocate: Orlando Burnett who is supposed to sleep on the governor's door step, emits occasional growls, to the effect that if La Follette cannot have his own way, he will bolt. That is nothing new. He did that with all his might when Scofield ran a second time.

Deerfield News: If the half-breed press of the state are getting one cent of the Stevenson's money for every dollar they claim the stalwart papers are getting from Pister, they would be getting rich and the stalwarts wealthy. The mournful fact is most likely though, that the papers depending on that kind of support will have to eat chips for their Thanksgiving turkey. The money papers get from politicians is like the Sahara mirage—bright in the air, but always far away.

Menominee Falls News: There is a little satisfaction to those who are seeking to find some similarity between President Roosevelt and the governor of Wisconsin. Why? Because the president is a real reformer. He never plays to a grand stand occupied by the masses or to one occupied by the classes.

Milton Telephone: To keep mum about that train is too much in line with the assertion that the will of the governor is the will of the people.

Whitewater Gazette: Gov. La Follette, so the Evening Wisconsin states, is contemplating a lecture trip around the state. The governor is a good speaker and may draw well, even if speaking on such an unpopular subject as the Stephens primary law. We believe, however, it is a little too early to commence a campaign of political speeches.

Dodgeville Republic: It is an open question which will become the most notorious, "Scofield's cow" or the "Governor's special."

Hartford Press: Well, if it does mean a democratic victory as the half-breeds threaten they will be the greatest losers. It would be cutting off one's nose to spite one's face. The stalwart's aren't holding very many state offices.

Ossau Recorder: Now that the half-breed press is short on argument it begins to show wonderful fertility in the line of personal abuse.

Rice Lake Leader: As the La Follette faction seems determined to ostracize every man who does not aneeze when the governor takes snuff, the easiest way to settle with them is to get a new governor.

Reeseville Review: If the present system of nominating state officers is so awfully, awfully bad what an awfully, awfully bad case Governor La Follette must be to receive a unanimous nomination as governor by this awfully awful system.

Watertown Daily Times: If Gov. La Follette carries out his intention of stumping the state next summer as a candidate for renomination he probably will not ride about in a special train.

Grant County Herald: The speech which Tax Commissioner Haugen made at Superior drew the line so that the people will have to decide between Spooner and La Follette, it being impossible to have both.

Gillett Times: One of La Follette's enthusiastic supporters refers to his opponents as "warts." If resented, the cry goes up at once that the "opposition is given to abuse and misrepresentation."

Hartland News: The main trouble with Gov. La Follette is that he does not appreciate his position. The people elected him to execute the laws passed by the legislature; and he at once set about telling the legislature what it should do and what it should not do, thus assuming to be a dictator to his fellow servants of the people—a position to which he had not been elected. The constitution and laws plainly define his position and prerogatives, and the party leaders and legislators were right in resenting any attempts he made to overstep the limits.

Delavan Enterprise: If all the old time republican leaders are wrong in the present controversy, how did it so often happen that they were right in times past, when they led a harmonious party to battle and victory? Let the voter think carefully before determining to quit old and tried men and principles to follow off an orator and a brass band.

Sections of old water pipes of cypress that had been underground and in use for nearly a century were recently exhumed at New Orleans, and to the surprise of all the wood was perfectly preserved and as hard as when laid. LIVELY FIRE AT HOTEL MYERS

GUESTS AROUSED FROM SLEEP EARLY THIS MORNING.

Timely Discovery of the Flames and Prompt Action Prevent a Bad Conflagration—William Rowson Discovered Fire—Department Responded Quickly—Damage Small.

A fire that was fortunately extinguished before it did any serious damage, was discovered this morning about 5:30 o'clock in the hall on the third floor of the hotel Myers. The forty or fifty guests and the employees were at once aroused and lost no time seeking places of safety.

The heavy smoke that filled the halls for a time gave the guests an idea that a bad fire was in progress and they lost no time getting down to the ground floor many of them only about half clothed.

Guest tries to extinguish flames. The fire was discovered by Mr. William Rowson, of James Rowson & Sons, city hall contractors, who has a room on the south side of the hall, directly opposite the spot where the fire broke out.

He was aroused by the smell of smoke in his room and jumped up to investigate. When he opened his door a cloud of blinding smoke rushed in and he saw the wainscoting on the wall not over six feet away all on fire. He seized a pitcher of water and dashed it on the flames, then secured another pitcher from the room across the hall and used that to stop the fire. He then rushed up and down the hall arousing the guests and had to break in the door for one man who could not find the keyhole.

During this time, Night Clerk Ed. Kruger had smelled smoke and aroused Landlord Johnson, who told him to turn in an alarm at once, "without waiting to see where the smoke came from. Accordingly a telephone message was sent to the East Side fire station and box 28 was rung. The department turned out in short order and soon had several leads of hose laid ready for use. The fire was extinguished with chemicals and no water was thrown. Chief Spencer had the aerial ladder partly raised in order to lose no time if it was needed.

The fire evidently started near a steam radiator about half way down the long hall on the Milwaukee street front and ran towards the east between the rafters under the floor and up the wall near the steam pipe. It had a good start when it was discovered. The floor of the hall directly in front of the door to room 28, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Ranous, of Fond du Lac, was torn up and the fire soon quenched.

Origin of the Fire a Mystery.

How the blaze started is a mystery. It could hardly have come from the steam pipe, which runs along about four inches from the wall, for the reason that there was very little steam on at that time in the morning. It most likely caught from a lighted match or a cigarette stub, carelessly thrown into a corner near the pipe.

The floor was chopped up by the firemen in several places and the rafters and wainscoting somewhat charred. One hundred and fifty dollars will cover all the damage.

Frightened Guests Breakfast Early. The guests were all pretty thoroughly scared and a majority of them had breakfast shortly after six o'clock. They were all very thankful that they were not forced to run for their lives. Night Clerk Kruger went by the point where the fire was discovered about twenty minutes before Mr. Rowson discovered it to be on fire and states positively that there was no fire about at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Ranous, who were in room 28, were right in the thick of the fire. They smelled smoke but thought nothing of it. Mr. Rowson aroused them and they lost no time getting out. When they left the room the flames were coming through the floor by the door. The fire department have it down fine when they can ring the number of the room in a hotel where the fire is located. The room at the Myers was 28 and the alarm at the East Side Engine house was 28.

Landlords Johnson & Stevens consider themselves "extremely lucky" they did not have a bad fire.

Cash System Adopted. Owing to the increased prices of all supplies, the increasing number of accounts, the difficulty of collecting the same, and the time and attention it requires to collect, we, the undersigned laundries, have agreed to do only a cash business. After Dec. 1st, 1901, no bundle will be delivered unless paid for on or before the delivery of the same. Bundles not so paid for will be returned to the office. We feel positive that our patrons will find this more satisfactory to them as well as to us and trust that you will aid us in working for our mutual benefit. Five per cent. discount will be allowed on coupon tickets from $1.00 to $3.00, payable in advance. By this method you can always keep posted as to the extent of your laundry work and prevent all misunderstandings with your laundryman.

ENTERTAINED THEIR FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Shook Celebrate Their 20th Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Shook celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary on Wednesday evening by entertaining a company of friends at their pleasant home on Mole avenue. There were about twenty guests present, and the evening was spent in a very enjoyable manner, dancing being one of the amusements of the evening. Music was furnished by George Terry's orchestra. A beautiful supper was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Shook were the recipients of several handsome presents as souvenirs of the occasion.

The guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames—Charles Riggs, Arthur Butler, R. A. Cline, William J. Irwin, Misses—Lillian Dorn, Mary Waudersee, Lucy Irwin, Fry Kell, Nellie Densen.

DR. PIERCE'S Golden Medical Discovery

"I had suffered from indigestion, and only those who have suffered from it know what it really is," writes Mrs. M. J. Fagan, of 1613 East Genesee Street, Syracuse, N. Y. "I had severe attacks of headache and dizziness with cold hands and feet; everything I ate distressed me, bowels were constipated; and I was growing very thin and nervous. I cannot half express the bad feelings I had when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took nine bottles of the 'Discovery' and several bottles of the 'Pellets.' I commenced feeling better with the first bottle, and kept on improving. Now I am so greatly improved in health my friends often speak of it. I most heartily recommend those medicines to all suffering as I was."

KEEP STRONG

Vinol is a Wonderful Tonic and Strengtheners.

The Reason Why We Endorse It So Emphatically.

We have had considerable experience in being able to watch the effects produced by various tonics. We can emphatically state that we know of nothing that will act as a general restorer, strength restorer and flesh creator, better than Vinol.

When we feel sure as we do of the good that can be accomplished by this scientific remedy, it would seem strange that we do not endorse it and recommend it as highly as we are continually doing.

It is painful for us to see any of our friends or fellow townspeople, weak and debilitated and unable to enjoy life and in a condition where they are apt to succumb to some serious illness, when we feel sure as we do, that if they would but take Vinol, they would find it to be a strength builder and a health maintainer.

We know that Vinol contains in a highly concentrated form, those important medicinal elements that have always made cod liver oil famous. We know also that Vinol does not contain grease and is delicious to take and we know best of all of hundreds of people who have been cured and made strong by it. Here is one of many.

Mrs. G. W. HENRY, 205 First Ave., Joliet, Illinois, says:

"I take the greatest of pleasure in recommending such a fine tonic and strengthening medicine as Vinol. I felt run down and was always tired. I had no appetite and did not seem to digest the food I ate properly. I have been taking Vinol for about two weeks and feel strong and well. I now thoroughly enjoy my meals and my domestic and social duties, which used to fatigue me, are now a source of pleasure. I am now a sincere friend of Vinol."

When we talk of Vinol, we know whereof we speak and will refund your money if you are not satisfied after giving it a fair trial, that what we tell you about it is absolutely true.

PRINCESS VIROQUA, M. D.

Endorses Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound After Following Its Record For Years.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Health is the greatest boon bestowed on humanity and therefore anything that can restore lost health is a blessing. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a blessing to State and Nation. It cures her mothers and daughters and makes them well and strong."

PRINCESS VIROQUA, Practicing Physician and Lecturer.

"For fifteen years I have noted the effect of your Vegetable Compound in curing special diseases of women."

"I know of nothing superior for ovarian trouble, barrenness, and it has prevented hundreds of dangerous operations where physicians claimed it was the only chance to get well. Ulceration and inflammation of the womb has been cured in two or three weeks through its use, and as I find it purely an herbal remedy, I unhesitatingly give it my highest endorsement."

—Fraternal yours, Dr. P. Viroqua, Lansing, Mich. —$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

If you are ill do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. for special advice; it is entirely free.

FIGHTING RAILROAD COMBINE

Heads of Northwestern States Agree to Co-operate

WITH GOVERNOR VAN SANT.

Montana Appears to Have an Effective Law Against Consolidation as Minnesota—Oregon's Laws Do Not Prohibit Combinations.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 29.—The governors of the northwestern states have replied to the invitation of Governor Van Sant asking their co-operation in an effort to prevent the impending railway consolidation.

All agree in extending their moral support to Minnesota's governor.

Governor White of North Dakota and Governor Toole of Montana are willing to arrange for a meeting of governors and the latter appears very much in earnest.

Governor Geer of Oregon would favor a conference, but cannot come east for that purpose. He would attend it if held on the coast.

Of the three states only Montana appears to have an effective law against consolidation as Minnesota.

North Dakota's constitution is very plain, but the statutory prohibition is rather general and vague.

Montana's law prohibits the consolidation of parallel and competing lines, and has other general legislation.

Oregon's law does not prohibit combinations of any sort.

Governor White, North Dakota, says: "I agree with you that the situation is of moment to the business interests and general welfare of the entire Northwest. I feel that the people of our state are, in sympathy with you in the effort you are making to prevent the consolidation."

Governor Toole, Montana, in the same connection: "I am not sufficiently advised at this time to indicate what remedies are available to defeat this consolidation and its purpose to control rates of transportation in this state, but whatever lawful methods are available will be employed and to that extent our co-operation may be relied upon."

Yankton Has a Big Fire.

Yankton, S. D., Nov. 29.—The Union block, comprising the best business houses of the city, was burned to the ground. The loss is estimated at $100,000. William Pierson, city marshal, who slept in the building, jumped from a third-story window. He may die from his injuries. Several people were rescued from the upper stories with ropes.

Hurt by Tidal Wave.

London, Nov. 29.—A remarkable tidal wave, accompanied by strong winds, has done much damage along the eastern coast of England from Norfolk to Kent. Rivers have overflowed their banks, dams and sea walls have been invaded and miles of country have been submerged.

Carey Signs with Washington.

East Liverpool, O., Nov. 29.—George Carey, last season's player-manager of the Buffalo Baseball club, has signed to play first base for Tom Loftus' Washington team next season. Center Fielder Gettman will also go with Carey to Washington.

"Buy Mrs. Austin's Famous Wheat Food rich in phosphates and gluten. All grocers sell it."

PRISONERS ARE TORTURED.

Herded in Holes in the Ground. They Await Death.

London, Nov. 29.—The Times publishes part of a letter from Alan Lenox, a missionary at Marakash (City of Morocco), describing the horrible sufferings of 200 political prisoners confined in two dungeons there. These places are mere holes, the floors and roofs being of damp clay. They are so crowded that there is scarcely room for the prisoners to lie down. Amid filth, stench and disease the wretched prisoners eke out their existence, hoping for no release except death. The government supplies a coarse and abominable bread to them, which causes them excruciating pain from their weak digestive organs. Clothing is not supplied to them. So strong is the fatalism of these wretches, says Mr. Lenox, that they accept their lot quietly, as decreed by God. The stillness of the night is sometimes broken by the united wail of these two hundred, "May God give victory to Mulai Abdul el Aziz!" Yet it is for supposed opposition to the Sultan that they are imprisoned. Mr. Lenox declared that the Sultan is amiable, courteous and anxious for reform in Morocco, and that, wisely guided and honestly assisted by the European powers, he would do a great deal. There are many difficulties in his way and native officials and the present misgovernment remunerative.

TALKS TO OUR NEIGHBORS.

John Barrett Pleads Delegates to the Pan-American Congress.

City of Mexico, Nov. 29.—At a dinner given by the United States delegation to the Pan-American conference John Barrett made an address outlining the policy of the United States in relation to the other republics of Central and South America. His remarks made a deep and favorable impression on the delegates from the Spanish-American countries and were received with loud applause, especially his declaration that the United States exacted of Europe no respect for the Monroe doctrine that it did not propose to show itself, and that in all things its policy was that of the golden rule. Senator Henry G. Davis, chairman of the United States delegation, proposed a toast to President Diaz. The speaker on behalf of Mexico was Senor Genaro Ralgon, President of the conference, and on behalf of South America, Alcazar Calderon of Peru, Augusto Matte of Chile, and on behalf of Central America J. B. Calvo of Costa Rica. All their speeches were full of cordiality toward the United States.

Indian Chief Killed.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 29.—In a quarrel over a game of cards "Marshal Pete," spokesman for and chief of the Yavapai Apache Indians, was killed and his tribe, incensed over the murder, are trailing through Big Butte Mountains in pursuit of "Lou," the murderer. "Lou" is a young buck, a skilled hunter, and had many friends. The latter have all turned upon him. It is thought he is hurrying to Prescott to claim the protection of the whites, and hence the chase is a hot one, in the hope of overtaking him. Officers are pursuing the avengers in the hope of quelling the disturbance. It is feared that the Apaches will become ugly unless "Lou" is taken.

Tired

that's all. No energy, no vim, no vigor, no ambition. The head aches, thoughts are confused, memory fails. Life becomes a round of work but half accomplished, of eating that does not nourish, of sleep that fails to refresh and of resting that never rests. That's the beginning of nervous prostration.

"I was very nervous, and so tired and exhausted that I could not do my work. One dose of Dr. Miles' Nervine quieted my nerves and drove away the lassitude. Seven bottles did wonders in restoring my health."

Mrs. M. E. Lacy, Fortville, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

Kodol

Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you Eat

Dyspeptics cannot regain health and strength by living upon half rations. They must eat plenty of good food and digest it. To enable them to do this they should use something that will help the stomach do its work. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is such a preparation. It digests what you eat and supplies the substances needed to build up the worn out digestive organs.

Prof. J. Ivison, of Louisa, Md., says: "For thirteen years I suffered agony from dyspepsia and neuralgia of the stomach. I tried almost everything and doctors drugged me nearly to death with morphine, but temporary relief was all I could obtain till I was advised to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. The first dose gave me relief. I bought my first bottle in March, 1900, and I have not had a single pain since. It has completely cured me. I cannot endorse it too highly."

It can't help but do you good
